Indigenous Americans Post Colonial Expressions

STRAAT Museum and STRAAT Gallery are honored to present the exhibition, Indigenous Americans - Post Colonial Expressions.

This exhibition focuses on four contemporary artists with Native American heritage :

Jaque Fragua, Danielle SeeWalker, Kaplan Bunce & Anthony Garcia Sr.

As part of our ongoing mission to expose the public to the diversity of street art and graffiti culture worldwide, this exhibition celebrates an underexposed subculture within.

Indigenous Americans - Post Colonial Expressions speaks to the unity a diverse culture embodies, and to the deeply rooted history of Indigenous makers and their ongoing relationship with public space painting.

In the words of participating artist Kaplan Bunce: “The contemporary Urban Art landscape to me looks like a mix between a culture-rich sharing of art practices from around the globe. I see unity in the community and have found that by continuously practicing my indigenouness throughout these spaces I am continuing a pathway made by those who have been making marks on walls for all of time.”

The exhibition launches with a public opening reception on Saturday, April 8th, 2023. In addition to the gallery exhibition, which runs through Sunday, June 4th, 2023, each artist will also create a mural-scale work for STRAAT’s permanent collection in the massive main hall.
